Narrow Escape.

We have frequently decried on the dangerous crossing of the Lackawanna Railroad on Glenwood Avenue, which is considered one of the worst ones on that road in this vicinity, from the fact that the Crosstown trolley line crosses the railroad track, and from the fact also that Glenwood Avenue is the principal artery between this town and East Orange, and in consequence the traffic in that direction is constant, and continually increasing. We have often been called upon to record many narrow escapes at the point above mentioned, but the most seriously threatened one occurred last Saturday. As trolley car 307 of the Crosstown line was about to cross the railroad track at Glenwood Avenue the passengers were thrown into panic by the rapid approach of the Saturday special on the Lackawanna Railroad, due here at 1.52 o'clock. It did not seem that the trolley car would be able to get across the railroad track in time to escape being struck, and the passengers all made a rush for the doors.
To make matters still worse the guard at the crossing became excited and lowered the gates, the latter striking the top of the trolley car. Engineer Horn blew a warning blast on his whistle, and the guard raised the gates in time to allow the trolley car to go forward just in time to escape being crushed.
Imprisoned between the gates at the same time was a carriage containing Joseph Rawson and Harry Walker, two well-known residents of this town, who also narrowly escaped being ground to pieces. Conductor Ball was in charge of the train, which came dashing into the station at such speed that the locomotive almost reached Washington street before the engineer succeeded in bringing it to a stop.

In view of this and other similar narrow escapes of threatened fearful catastrophes at the Glenwood Avenue crossing, it does seem imperative that measures should be at once inaugurated to eliminate this death-trap. Unless the track of the railroad is elevated or depressed, there will yet be fearful loss of life there, and now is a good time for the town authorities to force the matter to a successful issue. The terrible accident on the same road at Clifton Avenue, Newark, a few years ago, whereby nine school children lost their lives, should be a sufficient warning to the railroad officials to endeavor to remove existing conditions. Our people are thoroughly in earnest on the subject, and now that two well-known and prominent citizens have had a close call for their lives, indignation has been aroused. Let the Board of Trade go energetically to work in an effort to remove this danger spot from our community. Our public meetings to agitate the affair, and cease not until the death-trap is removed.

Glen Ridge Republicans.
The Glen Ridge Branch of the Republican League for Limited Franchise was represented at the conference in Newark Monday night by Vincent A. Ryan, Roosevelt B. Johnson, Rufus B. Cowing, Jr., Eugene LeRoy Cadmus, David H. Standish and William Baird.

Oil Sprinkling.

Much complaining has been indulged in this summer about the dusty condition of Bloomfield Avenue in dry weather, attributed to the large trolley car traffic on that thoroughfare. Some of our people have petitioned the Town Council to abate the nuisance, and have suggested the use of kerosene oil for this purpose. This experiment has been successfully tried in various places on the public roads of the country where automobile travelling has been extensively indulged in. And now comes the statement from West Orange that after a trial of six weeks of sprinkling oil on the roads in that locality, the people there have pronounced the plan a complete success. The first section sprinkled was Northfield road, from Main street to Gregory Avenue, a distance of about two-thirds of a mile, and not only has the dust been kept down, but metaphors are said to be unknown in the neighborhood. There is a slight odor arising from the oil, but this is the only objection. The roadway about the triangle at St. Mark's Church has now been sprinkled, the money for this purpose being contributed by business men of the neighborhood. All the work has been done by private subscription thus far, the town sprinkling carts being used through the co-operation of the street committee.

If this experiment of oil sprinkling has been so beneficial in West Orange in keeping down the dust, the members of our Town Council might seriously consider the propriety of introducing this plan in our town. Not only does the oil keep the dust down, but it has proved very effective in destroying or keeping away that fearful pest of humanity, the mosquito. Certainly, after the plague our people have suffered this summer from mosquitoes, the experiment is worth trying. Owing to so much wet weather, the pests are more numerous now than ever.

Heavy Travel.
In consequence of the intense heat last Sunday all the trolley cars leading out of Newark were crowded with people who were anxious to secure a breeze in the open cars. The Bloomfield line was unusually well patronized, many people going all the way through to Caldwell.
In fact, it was very difficult to secure a seat in some of the cars. Quite a large number of our citizens also boarded the cars for Caldwell. It is said that the Public Service Corporation collected 600 fares on its cars leaving and returning to Newark on Sunday.

A True
Coffee Story

Years ago the best coffee came from Arabia and Java, and became famous as "Mocha and Java." Since then, other countries have produced other coffees, which properly blended, are far superior to any so called "Mocha and Java" possible to obtain. The proof of this is

HOTEL ASTOR
COFFEE

Yet many people who want the best coffee mistakenly ask for "Mocha and Java." Hotel Astor Coffee was originally blended for the use of the Hotel Astor in New York, where it is known as the "Astor Blend."
It is a blend of the best Arabica and Robusta beans, and is delightful in every respect. Now obtainable at grocery stores for home use, it is a blend of the best Arabica and Robusta beans, and is delightful in every respect. No loss of strength by exposure to air; no possibility of handling or contact with impurity. Never sold in bulk.
The famous Hotel Astor recipe is in every tin. It will surprise your palate.
Always sold at 35c per pound. If not at your grocery send us his name and we will see that you are supplied.

TINUE.

The people of Bloomfield and vicinity appreciate the great advantage W. W.
Keyler obtained for them in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.
Many orders have come by mail at this popular price, for it is very unusual to be able to buy sixty doses of a standard medicine for half price.
Every bottle of the specific sold by W. W. Keyler has his personal guarantee to refund the money if it was not satisfactory, but none has come back, showing the wonderful curative power of this remedy.
Unlike ordinary medicines for constipation and dyspepsia, the dose of Dr.
Howard's specific is reduced after a few days' use, and the cure is soon complete and lasting.

It is only recently, on the persistent advice of W. W. Keyler, that Dr. Howard's specific has been sold for less than 50 cents, but he urged that it would be better to secure a quick introduction in Bloomfield in this way, and the result has proven his good judgment.—Advt.

Fraser's Newark Theatre.

The programme provided by Mr. Proctor for his beautiful Newark Theatre for the week of August 12 abounds with the names of vaudeville head-liners.
The stellar place on the bill is given to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hughes, who present for the first time in Newark their dainty little comedy playlet, "Suppressing the Press," which gives ample scope to the mirth-provoking qualities of these clever players. Cornelia and Eddie, a pair of bonny acrobats whose feats are unparalleled, are also billed, and doubtless will be one of the hits of the week. The little folks and all those who enjoy the slight of animal intelligence will more than appreciate Parker's Dog Circus.
Lawrence and Harrington appear in a laughable skit called "Installments," in which they give a correct characterization of a Bowerly boy and an Eastside girl.

A Big Check.

The Public Service Corporation tendered to the city of Newark on Saturday a check for $108,300, representing the North Jersey Railway Company's yearly payment to the city on gross trolley receipts computed under the five per cent. ordinance. And yet, strange to say, the city declined to accept the check, claiming that the amount was not large enough. The money tendered by the trolley company is $11,414.24 more than last year, and $100,000 more than in 1894.
